

CFA® Program Prep Courses @ CK Level 1, 2 and 3

Overview

Knowledge, discipline, perseverance and working under pressure are skills candidates need, to successfully prepare and pass CFA® exams. At Capital Knowledge we provide ample opportunities to acquire these skills.

In our prep courses, knowledge is delivered by CFA® charter holders who are also experienced passionate instructors. Review sessions combine several techniques (lecturing, problem solving and group activities) to keep the sessions interesting and energy level of the candidates high and to stretch the attention span of hard working young professionals at the end of long busy working weeks.

In our intensive review courses, discipline and perseverance are emphasized through strict regiment of piecemeal preparations and home work assignments. Working under pressure and fighting mental and physical fatigue are practiced through numerous diagnostics tests taken under simulated exam conditions.

Candidates who attend at least 67% of the sessions, submit all homework, take and fail the exam are entitled to repeat the course for free.
